

Sewing

When sewing patterns, there is the "Segment Sewing" method that sews segments that have been split by lines together, and the "Free Sewing" method that freely designates areas and sews them regardless of points or segments.

The two sewing tools are divided for convenience, and using sewing the same area in a similar manner will share the same results.

Both sewing tools have "Sewing Notch" and "Point Line" that designate the segment's sewing direction.