

Sewing Blocks

Objective

Sew Patterns to the Block Template Boxes.

Location

- Modular Mode > Block Editor

Operation

Sew Patterns to the Block Template Boxes

1. Click on a Sewing tool from the Block Editor.
2. Sew to establish the sewing relationships between the Block Boxes (Step 2 and 3 can be interchanged).

 Block Boxes can only be sewn segment to segment.

 Only one block box segment can be sewn with pattern segments. In other words, you can not sew multiple block box segments at once with free sewing or M: N sewing tools. Therefore, if the number of line segments in the block box is larger than the number of line segments in the pattern to be sewn, it is necessary to sew the line segment of the pattern by 1: 1 by adding the number of line segments of the block box.

ex) A point is added to the back bodice Block's neckline. Therefore, add a point to the back bodice Pattern's neckline, and then establish sewing lines to connect them

3. Sew Pattern parts to their respective Block Box areas.

 - Pattern areas that do not need to be connected to another Pattern do not need to be sewn to the Block Box.

ex) Hems, garments without collars or sleeves

- The difference in length between the actual Pattern and the Block Box will not affect the Simulation of the Garment.

- The same principles apply in sewing Patterns to Block Boxes as sewing Pattern-to-Pattern in Simulation Mode.

The sewing relationship is set for Pattern part and the Block Box.

4. Repeat the above steps to sew the remaining Pattern parts to the Block Box.

Show Modular Sewing / Show Pattern Sewing

1. The Show Modular Sewing / Show Pattern Sewing tool is selected by default in the Block Editor 2D toolbar. While the tool is toggled on, confirm the sewing relationships between Block Boxes and their respective Patterns.
2. Toggle the Show Modular Sewing / Show Pattern Sewing tool off. The Block Box-to-Pattern sewing lines will be hidden, and the sewing lines for the Pattern itself will appear.

 Should Seamlines not appear while sewing Block Boxes to Patterns, confirm whether the Show Modular Sewing / Show Pattern Sewing is toggled on/off.
